HSE information on the Siegwerk webpage now also available in French

Already at the beginning of the year the HSE + Sustainability department has established a webpage which addresses important subject areas concerning product safety.

All documents are available on especially for our French-speaking customers in French from now on. Hence for them there are no more linguistic obstacles and they can download the always most topical information beside English and German also in French themselves - anytime, anywhere and always on the latest status.

You will find customer guidance documents such as:

- Food packaging safety

- Ink industry exclusion lists of toxic substances
- Frequently inquired substances, such as Phthalates or substances listed in “California Proposition 65”
- Compostable and biodegradable packaging
- Ethics, social responsibility and sustainability at Siegwerk

In addition, we are glad that we can provide you at the same place in future the opportunity to call up your Safety Data Sheets (SDS) by yourself after the entry of the Siegwerk material number. The new feature is an added service of Siegwerk for his customers and completely independent of the legally required distribution of SDS per mail, fax or letter.
