Siegwerk India officially recognized as R&D center

The Research & Development Center of Siegwerk India is now a government-recognized Centre of Research. It is presumably the first time such certification has been awarded to a company in the printing ink industry.

Siegwerk India officially recognized as R&D center

“Over the last three years, Siegwerk has heavily invested in a world-class R&D Center in India with fully equipped laboratories and the latest equipment,” says Vijay Gupta, CEO of Siegwerk India. “We would like to be pioneers in developing technology products and giving our strategic customers the competitive edge they are looking for.”
